Skutt Acquires KilnSitter®

In early 2009 Skutt Ceramic Products acquired the KilnSitter® division of the W.P Dawson Corporation giving Skutt exclusive rights to produce the trademarked KilnSitter® Shutoff device and parts. Skutt will continue to provide replacement parts for all brands of kilns including, but not limited to:

- Skutt
- Amaco
- Paragon
- Cress
- Evenheat
- L & L
- Blue Diamond
- Aim
- Olympic

How to Order Parts

Identify Your KilnSitter Model

There are four main KilnSitter Models. These model numbers are printed on the face of the KilnSitter unit and they are: Model K, Model P, Model LT-3, and Model LT-3K. Skutt Kilns only use the Model K and Model LT3-K units. Older kilns, and some custom kilns did not come with printed face plates. For these models it is best to call Skutt to make sure you identify the correct part.

Model P

Model LT-3

Model K

Model LT-3K

Locate Your Part on the Correct Exploded Diagram

Once you have identified the correct KilnSitter model use the diagram that corresponds to your KilnSitter Model to identify the part you need. The parts in the diagram are numbered and correspond to the KilnSitter Part numbers listed in column one of the price list. If you are ordering shutoff tubes or sensing rods you will need to measure them to identify the correct part.

Measure Your Tube Assembly and Sensing Rod

Most parts are interchangeable from model to model however the style and length of the Tube Assemblies and Sensing Rods used in KilnSitters can vary depending on the brand of kiln and kiln model. The two styles are pictured below. The “P” Style was used in Model P and Model LT-3 units whereas the “K” style were used in Model K and Model LT-3K units. Once you know the style you will need to measure the tube assembly as shown in the photos. When you go to purchase your part simply choose the tube assembly that is the right size out of your parts list.
